Subject: The Notable Moronic Response from the Nashua's Premier Attorney - Leonard

Good Afternoon,

See Attached. I filed a formal RTK request to find out what has been updated by way of written policies or procedures to address RTK processing. I then requested what has been updated on the City website. The transcript of Ms. Leonard in a May 17, 2023 Court Hearing before Judge Colburn is below. It is time the Nashua attorneys stop blowing sunshine up the asses of the Judges and get real in producing a viable and cost effective system for public records and requests. No surprise - going on 10 months nothing has been done.

MS. LEONARD: That would be -- Gary works for Mr. -- Director Cummings, who's here, the Director of Administrative Services. And I do know that that is a important initiative for the City to make these--every single committee and board run as efficiently as the Board of Alderman,the Board of Public Works, all those other ones that area little bit bigger with paid staff,so.

THE COURT: Okay.

MS. LEONARD: That's --

THE COURT: And will that become public knowledge when that effort is concluded? In other words, when there has been either a citywide sort of policy or there's been an organizational chart of some sort, will that become made public to individual citizens who might want to know it?

MS. LEONARD: Absolutely. That would be a goal, yeah. The --

THE COURT: Okay.

1. ...And it seems to me that, whether it's Ms. Ortollano(phonetic)or anybody else, in terms of organization, that's going to benefit everybody, because it's going to make the citizen feel more comfortable with the transparency and
2. nowhere to go, which I know has been an issue.
3. And from the City's perspective, and maybe to the mayor's point, you're all spending a tremendous amount of
4. effort and time and money on dealing with right to knowrequests that might not ever materialize if folks can get theanswers they're looking for. And that's not going to solveevery problem. Of course, there are going to be -- there's going to be litigation, that's the nature of the beast,but it seems to me that some of this could certainly be eradicated simply by that piece of organization.
- 5.
6. MS. LEONARD: Totally agree. And it's a reallygreat time to do it now, and that was the long term goal in
7. having to...
